SALEM ELECTRIC
AN ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

What is Salem Electric?

Salem Electric is a not-for-profit electric utility, providing electricity to over 20,000 meters in parts of Salem and Keizer. Unlike investor-owned utilities, electric cooperatives provide electricity to their consumer-members at cost. Salem Electric delivers reliable and renewable electricity to members throughout a 17.5 square mile service territory.

What are Capital Retains?

Since electricity is delivered to members at cost with no excess expenses built in, at the end of each fiscal year, margins (operating revenue less operating expense) are allocated to members as capital retains (also known as capital credits) based on the member's purchases from the cooperative. Capital credits represent funds that have been invested in the electric utility plant. To date, Salem Electric has paid over $33,000,000 in capital credits to its members.

When can members expect to receive a refund?

Each year the board decides whether the current financial condition of the cooperative allows for the distribution of capital credits. The board has adopted a policy of annually refunding 5% of the outstanding credits, which are currently being refunded in order of seniority after approximately 20 years. Members that move from Salem Electric's service area are still able to claim the credits they earned.

How do I make a claim?

This publication provides a list of Salem Electric members who had service during the years 2001–2002 and have unclaimed credits available. Contact Salem Electric at 503-362-3601 to request a claim form. The credits can be claimed by the individual or entities legally entitled or their heirs. Claims must be received by Salem Electric, PO Box 5588, Salem OR 97304, on or before December 9, 2021.

This publication is distributed four times in 2021. It is not necessary to contact Salem Electric more than once.

HYDRO POWER FLOWS HERE

Hydropower is Affordable
This is because the "fuel" – water – is free, which keeps operating costs low and protects against fluctuations in fuel prices. Over the years, the dams have consistently provided some of the nation's most affordable electricity.

Hydropwer is Flexible
By adjusting the amount of water flowing through the dams, hydropower can be increased or decreased very quickly to meet changes in demand for power. This meets a fundamental requirement of all electric grids, which is that demand must exactly match supply at all times to keep the system stable.

Hydropower Backs Up Other Renewable Resources
Hydropower is a great back-up for wind and solar power—for example it can be ramped up to meet demand when the wind is not blowing, and dialed down at times of high winds.

Information provided from Hydropower Flows Here at bpa.gov

Hydropower is Renewable
Each year, rain and snow replenish the supply. It is the nation's most abundant source of renewable energy.

Hydropwer is Reliable
Water from our rivers is largely a domestic resource that is not subject to disruptions from foreign suppliers, cost fluctuations in power markets, international political crises or transportation outages.

Hydropower is Clean
Hydropower produces no emissions. There are no gases or waste products that contribute to air pollution.

Hydropower is Efficient
Hydropower plants at dams convert about 90 percent of the energy in falling water into electrical energy. By comparison, fossil-fueled plants lose more than half of the energy content of their fuel as waste heat and gases.

NORTHWEST HYDROPOWER IS RENEWABLE, RELIABLE, CLEAN, AND EFFICIENT.

Why Dams Are Important

Hydropower is independent of sun, wind, and cold temperatures.

Take away dams and you take away reliability.

Dams allow us to generate our own power to meet the needs of the region without relying on other regions or countries.

As long as water flows through dams, lights will shine in the Northwest.

Hydropower Never Stops Generating

Hydroelectric dams provide low cost, reliable, renewable, clean hydropower to over 60% of people in the Pacific Northwest and account for 90% of the renewable energy; integrating with intermittent renewables like solar and wind.

From the dams to your home (or car), hydropower keeps you warm in the winter, cool in the summer, and motoring down the road.
